FIRST ISSUE

Well, fellers n' gals, this is the very first issue of the New Mexico HAM and would like to welcome you to gander a spell. The four clubs now own a very fine printing machine. The clubs are getting representatives together to determine who will assume custody and operation of the new printing machine.

We need someone who will volunteer to be our editor. The requirements are very very stiff. This person must be able to work long hours, beat off good lookin gals with a wet noodle (in case of YL, must be able to give Karate lessons on the side), must have graduated from Kindergarten with honors and have an I.Q. of 13 or less. All kidding aside, we really don't have a very good editing staff and really need one, so please volunteer. The news you see here will be what you make it. The information will be presented as received. We hope to make this publication a news media for the Amateurs of New Mexico.

Tnx and 73- - ye Temporary ed.

de The Prez

We had a real nice turn out for the AARC meeting on 24 November. The officers were elected and installed on that night.

I appreciate the support given the officers over the past year and would solicit help from each and every one of you in the coming year. Our Club seems to have awakened in 1970. It is my sincere hope that it will continue to grow during the coming year.

The Amateur Breakfast continues to be a great success and looks like it will continue to be a high point of the month for many Amateurs around the state of New Mexico.

The Club needs to set some goals and objectives which will stimulate activity and create more interest in the club. We would appreciate any coments that you might have concerning this subject.

I would like to remind those of you who have not paid your dues for 1971, that they are due in January. The Club treasury is getting a little skinney, so I'm sure that if you have not paid your dues, you will want to do so very soon. Thank you once again for your cooperation and confidence.

Caravan Club News

The caravan Club held its monthly meeting at Specialty corporation on 7 December. The main topic discussed was RACES. The Radio Officers for Bernalillo County and Albuquerque have things pretty well in hand and looks like things are to be getting better for the RACES program

I would like to remind those who have not paid their dues for 1971, that they are due at the first meeting in January. On the back page of this bulletin there is an application for new and continued membership in the Radio Amateur Caravan Club of New Mexico Inc. Dues for one year is $5.00.

The next meeting of the Caravan Club will be on 4 January 1971 at the First National Bank Building East in the Hospitality room. Not much news this time, but will see you with more next month.
